School Winners Will Be Determined; City-Wide Finals Planned For May 11

Semi-finals in the city-wide marble tournament, being sponsored by the Ben Franklin Junior High School H-Y Club, are being held this afternoon at different school grounds about the city. By tonight each school in the city will have determined its champion, which by virtue of his or her win will represent it at the city finals on Saturday, May 11. The weather for the eliminations was ideal this morning. The sun was shining early and the air was warm, although at different times when the sun went scudding back of the clouds it did look a little threatening. News from different school grounds indicated that everything was proceeding in topsy-turvy shape, permitting the games to be carried off as per schedule.

Guarding The Public Health
Of all the many duties performed by the modern funeral director, none is more important than that of safeguarding the health of the living. He is given a thorough scientific training in sanitation, and while the general public knows little about this aspect of his work, it is of inestimable value in preventing the spread of disease. Public health authorities recognize the funeral director as one of the most important fighters in the battle for the public welfare.

TORNADO DEATH TOLL IN SOUTHERN STATES MOUNTING

In the outlying farm sections between the towns of Statesboro 34 killed, 70 injured; Cochran, 20 killed, 110 injured; Metter, 24 killed, 50 injured; Dexter, 6 killed, 17 injured; and Renss, 1 killed, 10 injured.

Meagre telegraphic dispatches trickling in from isolated South Carolina communities placed the death list in the state conservatively at 7 and the injured at 20.

With the re-arranging of telephone and telegraph lines, the first eyewitness stories reached here. Each told of the fury of the rain and wind storms that struck without warning.

No twisting clouds or the peculiar eerie whistling that usually precedes tornadoes, heralded the coming of the twister, the storm sufferers said.

Caught in Streets
Many persons were caught in the streets and dashed to death, others sought safety in their homes and were killed when their dwellings were demolished and still others met death on the farms and highways.

A settlement nine miles south of Marion first felt the fury of the storm. The settlement today resembled a child's matchwood village, practically every building being reduced to piles of shattered wood.

From this settlement, the twister tore southward on its friskish path, descending at Cochran where it demolished every building in its path. Fortunately, it missed the business section, accounting for the comparatively few loss of life.

The tornado roared again after leaving Cochran and whirled toward Dexter and Chester. The amount of damage in these towns is not yet known as only meagre reports have been received from that territory.

Almost simultaneously, a similar disturbance and quite as frightful in its intensified fury, swept a corner of South Carolina, centering around Spartansburg and Polzer where it claimed at least seven lives and resulted in the injury of a score or more persons. Hobbyville, near Spartansburg, reported one dead and many injured.

Survivors of the cyclonic winds, aided by Red Cross workers, combed the wreckage today for additional bodies. Many families are believed to have been wiped out by the high winds.

Volunteer physicians and nurses pushed slowly on through the debris-strewn roads today armed with medical supplies and quantities of serum to ward off an outbreak of pestilence.

Many hours will elapse before communication with all sections of the tornado-stricken territory is restored.

Schools Form County Press Association Here

With representatives from New Castle, Ellwood City, Union township and Shenango township present, the Lawrence County Press Association was formed today in the George Washington junior high school. The organization will be composed of school publication advisors and will be affiliated with the Pennsylvania State Press Association. Officers elected were: president, Miss Jean Emmell; secretary, Miss Margaret Reicher; chairman of the program committee, R. P. Conway.

The organization is formed for the purpose of improving the quality and standards of school publications, exchanging ideas between schools and for the purpose of fostering the interest of students in making better school papers.

Two meetings a year will be held.

The next one to be held on October 26 in the Benjamin Franklin school. At that time it is anticipated that arrangements will be made to have the Lawrence County Press Association take an active part in the Pennsylvania state educational convention, which will be held here in December.

A rather interesting sidelight on the Pennsylvania State Press Association, of which the Lawrence county association will be a unit, is that it is headed by Miss M. Emma Matheis, a Lawrence county girl, who is the editor of the P. S. E. magazine.

Problem of the school paper were discussed today, and from the indications the Lawrence County Press Association will be a factor in the improving of school publications in this county.

LEADERS THREATEN TO INVOKE CAUCUS ON TARIFF MEASURE

means committee, and who is anxious to see the bill go through the house as it comes from the committee. Caucus rule becomes necessary, leaders assert, because a few indiscriminate amendments would throw the entire scheme of tariff schedules out of line.

One proposal now being advanced is to exempt from caucus rule the sugar, cement, hides, vegetable oil and textile schedules, leaving these for determination by the whole house. The tariff bill has been delayed because of a fight in committee over cement, hides and vegetable oils, along with boots and shoes. It is learned.

The committee now has before it a proposal to raise the cement duties from five to eight cents a hundred pounds, sugar from 2.20 to three cents a pound and place a four cent duty on hides without compensatory duty for shoe manufacturers. It is reported.

At the corner of Texas, Democratic leader, announced the Democrats will demand that every schedule in the bill be open for amendment on the floor.

Rep. Rainey (D) of Illinois, also a member of the ways and means committee, declared he had information to the effect the ways and means committee plans to raise the tariff on hides, secured wool, Egyptian cotton, vegetable oils and corn and fiber, plus without compensatory duties for manufacturers.

The Republican members of the committee itself, however, continued to maintain silence on the question of rates, except to declare that every schedule is still in tentative form.

Croton Avenue Store Robbed

Donato Proietti, who conducts a grocery store at 1515 Croton avenue, reported to police late Friday afternoon, that his place of business had been entered during the night of April 23.

Detective John Young and Officer Thomas Lynch investigated and found that entrance had been gained by breaking the glass out of a rear door.

The loss sustained consisted of one Italian ham two dress shirts, pair of working pants and fifty cents worth of cigars.

STAR LORE

Accounting for the Weight of the Heaviest Known Substance.
By Arthur D. Carpenter.

When a sphere of matter three inches in diameter weighs 14 tons, as does the material composing the star that is the companion of Sirius, there must be an explanation. The atoms in a hot gaseous star finally become stripped of their outer planetary electrons. But the weight of an atom resides chiefly in its nucleus, so the removal of the electrons would but partially reduce the weight of the atoms. With the electrons stripped off, the positive nuclei would come close together, greatly reducing the diameters of the atoms and therefore of the star, with the star would still remain in a gaseous state, though of a density of 55,000 times that of water.

Who Sold the Lady Liquor?
Hard Fight in Mexico.
The Power of Comparison.
Editors and Cooks.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features
Synd., Inc.)

Mr. Smith and Mr. Bell went to a party. Mr. Smith got drunk. Mr. Bell remained sober.

Mr. Smith, according to evidence, was determined to take home a lady brought by Mr. Bell. Followed a discussion. Mr. Smith left, or was pushed, cracked his skull, died.

The jury refuses to indict Mr. Bell. Men who drink bootleg liquors must take the consequences, unless actual murder can be proved.

What about the gentleman that sold to the "lady prominent in Park Avenue social circles" the liquor that Mr. Smith drank before he was killed?

Nobody seems to be interested in him.

Rebels in Mexico appear to have the better of an important battle with Federal troops. Bloody fighting is reported.

The Associated Press, referring to the revolutionists as "religious rebels," describes them rushing into battle with desperate courage, shouting "Vive Cristo Rey" (Long live Christ the King).

Those that possess the power of comparison are strong. Shakespeare cautions Caesar to compare himself with the northern star, and compares the feeling of jealousy to a toad, living upon the vapor of a dungeon.

"Dapper Don" Collins, whom the police call a professional swindler, says of detectives in general, "These babies couldn't detect a horse shoe in a plate of hash." That's also a striking comparison.

The Publishers' Association heard purchase and control of public newspapers by paper and power manufacturing corporations condemned.

There is comfort for the publishers in one well established fact. A man may be able to buy newspapers without knowing how to RUN newspapers.

Big packing concerns might buy up restaurants with the idea of supplying all the meats for customers. But if they didn't have cooks for the restaurants, they wouldn't have many customers.

An editor owned by power or paper trust isn't much of an editor, and his papers won't amount to much in the long run.

In France citizens wait in line to buy stock in a French Ford company. More than 100,000 applications have been received.

In Holland citizens have subscribed for 50 times as much stock as Ford has for sale.

Very pleasant compliments for Henry Ford.

How maddening it must be for some of the get-rich-quick printing gentlemen to see such a marvelous opportunity wasted, if they were Ford they would print all the stock that anybody could buy, and then more.

Prof. Michelson of Chicago University, a real scientist, says every man should live "as long as he finds the world amusing." Then he might as well die.

A man should live as long as he can, making himself useful as long as he can, and then be a good example of patience with things as they are, continuing to take an interest in the universe, even when he can no longer be useful.

We are here now, we see the earth and the stars, and can at least admire the inconceivable wisdom and power that manages nebulae and ant hills. We don't know what we shall see after this.

Chicago's aldermen decide that if ladies insist on taking off almost everything, when they go swimming, it is hopeless to control them. If they wear "something or other" it will be all right in Chicago this season.

The world has traveled far from the day when women were driven from public beaches if they wore no stockings. Now all the backbones may show, except the last joint.

No need to worry, however. Give woman the right to wear nothing at all and she will immediately cover herself from head to foot. That's her nature.

Uncle Sam is a prosperous old gentleman, and his children, including the corporations, are also prosperous.

Corporation profits for 1929 are figured at eleven thousand millions of dollars by the income tax gentlemen. Cigarettes alone paid in the first nine months of the current fiscal year $247,160,000, which is $23,632,000 more than the preceding year. Young people at least have not neglected their cigarette smoking duties.

It is claimed in Hollywood that Ruth Elder is taking flying lessons. And here all the time we thought Ruth was an aviatrix.

Who says men are not as vain as the women? Charlie Chaplin had his hair dyed the other day.

Six West Virginia state senators are accused of being customers, by Harold Enoch, a confessed bootlegger. Even legislators have to drink once in a while, it seems.

When a man dies and bequeaths his money to his kin, it generally means they "kin" fight over it.

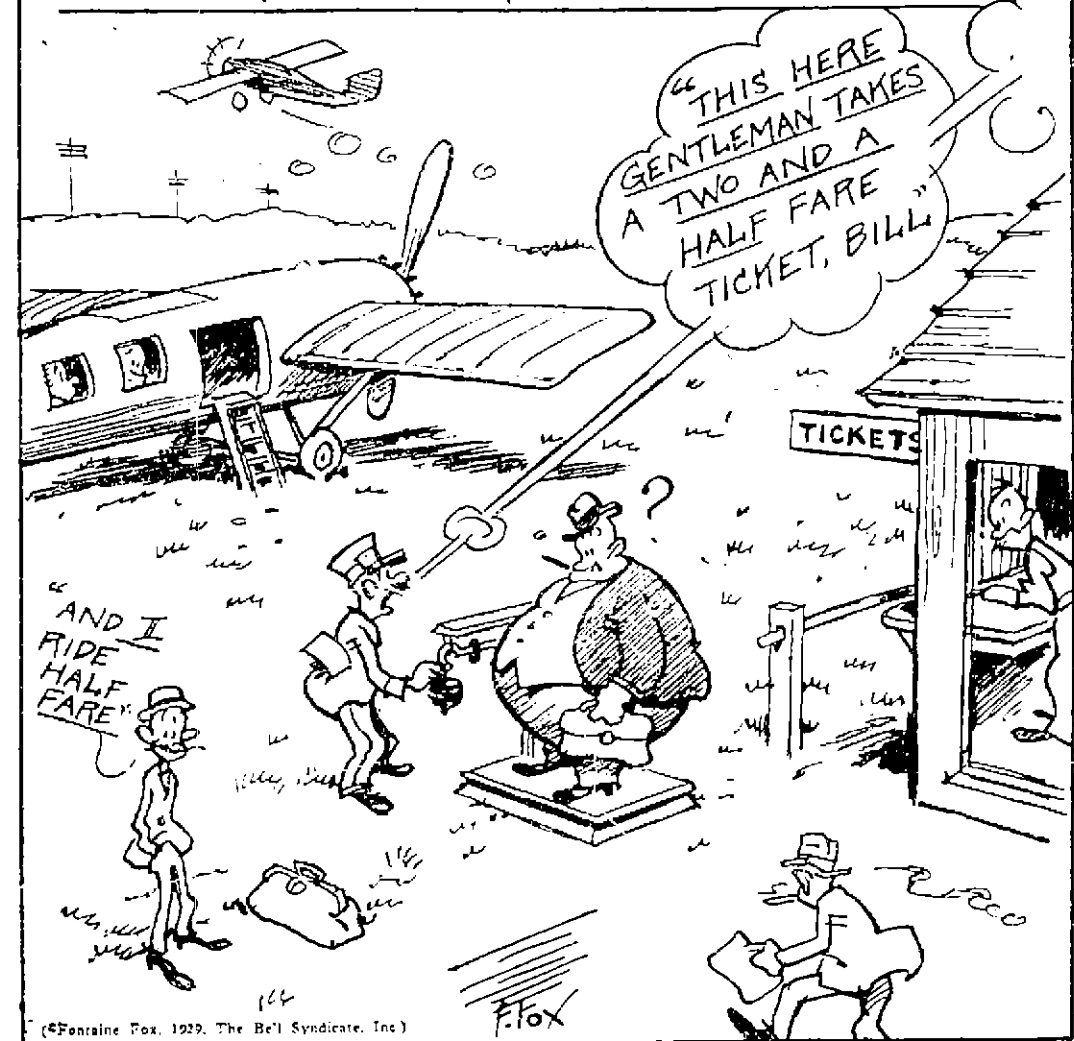

A 92-year-old woman in Chicago celebrated her birthday by having her hair bobbed. They say "there's no fool like an old fool."

Chicago prohibition agents, learning that people who could not read were buying books from a certain book store, investigated and then carried the books and owner to court. Copies of Byron's poems were found to contain two pints of liquor, while other favorite authors only carried

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 6:50. Sun rises tomorrow 5:05.

Business seems to be picking up with everybody all over the country, except the actors.

Some people are always trying to cook up a scheme to get money for nothing. A Lock Haven, Pa., man sent the skins of three Louisiana wild cats to the state game commission stating they had been shot in Pennsylvania. The game commission knew the difference, however, and instead of getting a bonus of $45 for killing the pests, he was taken before a justice of the peace and fined $100.

A husband is like your breath. Your breath doesn't distress you until you try to hold it.

A London adventures, masquerading as a man, married a woman and kept the secret that she was a woman from her for six years. They must not have been on very friendly terms.

LESSON NO. 1
A Jewish father, wishing to teach his little son a lesson, placed him on the back of a horse and told him to jump in his daddy's arms. The following conversation took place:

"Now, Able, jump in papa's arms!"
"But papa, it's so far, I'm afraid!"
"Able, do you want papa to lick you? Jump in papa's arms, come on, jump to papa!"

Able still hesitates, but finally jumps. His father quickly steps aside and lets little Able crash to the floor.

Then the father says to his son: "Now, Able, that'll teach you never to trust nobody!"

A Grandmother Explodes.
"They're letting him cry," said the grandmother gray.

"They're letting him cry and they've sent me away.
They're raising that baby on scheduled and things.

They won't have a cradle that teeters and swings.
They won't let me rock him to sleep on my knee.

And his father and mother won't listen to me.
That husband and father just laughed in my face.

When I called their neglect of the child a disgrace.
The very idea I said in my rage.
His mother was rocked every day at his age.

Hour after hour in my arms she would lie.
No baby of mine was permitted to cry.

I suppose I know nothing of babies at all!
I've only raised four of my own that were small.

I've only rocked four on these knees which they spurn.

Symposium of Editorial Views By Newspapermen to appear in students Subjects as Edited by Consolidated Press Association

Majority Accepts Message As Hoover Limit On Farm Aid

Many Expect Legislation Which May Result From President's Leadership To Produce Efficiency In Agriculture

While there are differing views as to the effect of President Hoover's message to Congress on agricultural aid, newspaper comment reflects a widespread feeling that his policies are in the direction of putting increased efficiency into farming. One view from the Middle West is that he would give the producers of basic products industrial control over their affairs.

"The President's program will mean much or little, in the opinion of the HOUSTON CHRONICLE (Dem.), according to how Congress sees fit to carry out his general principles into specific acts. And the copies into specific acts. And the President's farm relief program, if adopted as outlined in the farm bill now before the House, will mean much or little according to how the General authorization now with specific executive acts to come later, seem to be the program. As a consequence the public will have to wait a good while to pass judgment on the wisdom or weaknesses of the measures passed."

"Success or failure would rest with the Federal farm board personnel," suggests the SAN ANTONIO EXPRESS (Ind. Dem.), with the conclusion that "the outstanding problem has to do with marketing." The BUTTE DAILY POST (Rep.) states: "Belief is in his mind purely a business proposition, calling for the application of business principles and methods rather than the devious and dubious methods of political expediency." It remains now to see what measure of intelligent cooperation he may expect from the Congress.

"It is most hopeful and interesting feature is the broad plan to improve marketing of farm products," says the ELMIRA STAR-GAZETTE (Ind.), while the SCHENECTADY GAZETTE (Ind. Dem.) agrees with the President that the troubles cannot be cured in a day, but holds that "something can be done—farmers and farm organizations can be helped properly, an overcoming inequalities which they have faced for a long time." The NEWARK EVENING NEWS (Ind.) recognizes that "reorganization of the marketing system is the big thing he expects the Congress to undertake."

Referring to the measure before the lower branch of Congress, the KANSAS CITY JOURNAL-POST (Ind. Rep.) remarks: "But for this bill, the message could be very properly criticized both as to manner and matter. The Senate sat silent during the reading of the message and it did not even engage in perfunctory applause at its close. Whether this signifies a real difference of opinion as to the character of farm legislation is not known, but the attitude of the Senate, under either assumption, is ominous."

"If the kindly expression of President Hoover and members of Congress are supported by practical measures at the special session," declares the SIOUX CITY TRIBUNE (Ind.), "the meaning clearly will be a new era of industrial solidarity for the Middle West. Without asking or expecting miracles from the government, this newspaper is deeply convinced of the great benefits to be achieved, even from the most modest legislation in the great problem of establishing a sound industrial system for agriculture." The BIRMINGHAM NEWS (Dem.) concludes that "through cooperative marketing he seems to see the ultimate solution of the farmers' difficulties."

"That the President maintains a position on the side of government, rather than control as interpreted by the BANGOR COMMERCIAL TRADER (Ind.), to the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR (Rep.), is an adroit document" and "it is no Congress lead," while the SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE (Ind. Rep.) emphasizes the suggestion of "a farm board not as a cure-all but as an instrument for application of remedies."

Rejection of the "equilibrium" theory is hinted by the NEW YORK EVENING POST (Ind.), with the statement that "this comes after the enactment of a large program for farm relief which will seem to many urbanites to have both its paternalistic and its class-privilege side."

TOLEDO BLADE (Ind. Rep.) now feels that "a President who is clearly and understandingly anxious to solve a problem which long has baffled Congress and the administration

Americans Beaten By Englishmen In Ryder Cup Matches

English Golfers Defeat Pick
Of American Professionals For Ryder
Trophy

AMERICANS NOT IN USUAL FORM

MOORTOWN, Eng., April 27.—Staging a brilliant uphill fight Great Britain this afternoon conquered America's greatest professional golfers, and won the historic Ryder cup, 7 points to 5. The Englishmen started today's singles matches trailing by one point, yesterday's foursomes having given the invaders a 2½ to 1½ point lead. By virtue of their victory, the British have wrested the cup from the defending United States team.

The results of the singles were as follows:
C. Whitcombe beat Farrell, eight up and six to play.
Diegel beat Mitchell, nine up and eight to play.
Duncan beat Hagen, ten up and eight to play.
Compton beat Sorezen, six up and four to play.

Boomer beat Turnesa, four up and two to play.
H. Smith beat Robson, four up and two to play.
Cotton beat Watrous, four up and three to play.
Espinoza and Whitcombe finished their match all square. That gave each team a half a point and made the final score:
Great Britain, 7 points.
United States, 5 points.

Hagen Plays Poorly

The poor showing of Walter Hagen, captain of the American team, who was beaten 10 up and 8 to play by George Duncan, captain of the British aggregation, was one of the surprises of the day. Hagen, a competitive player of the highest caliber, was far off his game. He was one down at the end of the first nine five down at the end of the morning round of 18 holes and he slipped further in the afternoon contest.
Horon Smith, the brilliant youngster of Joplin, Mo., who in the last year became a sensation in the United States, performed nobly for the American cause. He won a hard-fought battle with Fred Robson, four up and two to play. Smith was as deadly calm as he had been in his matches in the United States, and he was warmly applauded by the large gallery that followed him.

Another American to make a magnificent showing was Leo Diegel, who conquered the veteran Abe Mitchell, 9 up and 8 to play. Diegel was the sensation of yesterday's foursome matches and today his work in the singles was equally equivalent.

NEW CASTLE BAND SECOND IN ERIE SCHOOL CONTESTS

against somewhat larger schools. They did place well in several events besides when Bessemer won in the class C band. Mt. Jackson took fourth honors in the class C orchestra and sixth in the girls' chorus meet.

Shenango and Union took sixth and seventh places, respectively, in the class C orchestra. It was Bessemer also that took second in that same class mixed chorus. All high schools competing from Lawrence county were entered in the class C section, with such competitors as Harrisville, Evans City, Mars and Titusville.

Four Sets of Judges

Four sets of judges heard the contests and made the decisions which placed the high schools in the rank they were given. Three of them were outside people not associated with Erie or its schools in any way, while one set, drafted at the last moment, was comprised of musicians in the city. These judges, however, heard contests where outside schools were competing and not anywhere Erie organizations were concerned. Before the judges were selected the schools were consulted and their approval secured.

Thomas F. Darcy, assistant director of the U. S. Army band at Washington; Charles R. Barone, Lockport, N. Y., and John Bolton of Buffalo acted as judges for all bands and class A orchestras.

Albert Martin, Fredonia, N. Y., former member of Sousa's band; Professor King of Fredonia, N. Y., and Grover C. Yaus of the South High band at Youngstown judged all class C and D orchestras.

Prof. E. A. Haesler, John R. McCaff and Mrs. Marie Vail Jameson of Erie judged all class C boys' glee club and class C girls' choruses.

Russell Gee of Lake Erie college at Painesville, O.; M. Alice Cory, also of that institution, and Edgar Bowman of Cleveland judged all other choruses.

Delegations arriving at the Erie depots or at the bus terminals were welcomed to the city by Erie high school students and teachers. Trolley and school buses were provided cars for the occasion and hurried the visitors to Academy high immediately on arrival in the city. Outside folk could justly feel that Erie had opened her arms to the visitors for the day. Local students there were courteous and directed the visitors to places of interest about Erie.

At noon a complimentary dinner was served in the cafeteria of the Academy school. All contestants were given lunch tickets and from 11 a. m. until past 2 in the afternoon 200 long streams of contestants poured into the eating room. Cafeteria supervisors estimated that 2,000 or even more were fed during that length of time.

Twenty-eight contestants were entered from the Union high school. That school entered its band and orchestra in the class C section. Accompanying their party was Prof. Roy P. Conway, principal of the school; Prof. Loy Gwin, director of music, and H. Burnham, teacher.

Other schools entered from the county, the number of contestants entered and those in charge of their delegations are as follows:

Bessemer high entered 80, their orchestra, band, mixed chorus, boys' glee club and girls' chorus. J. H. Martin, music director; Prof. H. J. Colton, principal, and Miss Fannie Keys and Miss Mary Smith accompanied the party.

Shenango entered 23 contestants. Those accompanying were Prof. Clara Book, principal; Prof. Charles G. Lindner, director of orchestra work, and Miss Katherine Alcorn.

Princeton entered 31 and Miss Alice Covert and Prof. John Turner accompanied. The Mt. Jackson high school had 15 contestants and entered its orchestra, mixed chorus, girls' glee chorus and boys' glee club for the first time. Those in charge of the party were Prof. H. A. Butler, principal; Francis McDowell, Miss Ruth Robinson, Miss Mona Sowash and W. H. McCullough, director of music.

Prof. Frank L. Orth, principal, Junia Patton, director of instrumental music here; Miss Isabelle Zehner, director of voice work; Miss Marjorie Rhodes, Miss Gladys Thomas, Miss Eva Coulter and Norman Nelson, accompanied the 179 contestants from the local high school. Organizations entered were the girls' chorus, boys' glee club, the mixed chorus, the band and the orchestra.

Events At Four Places

Events were held in four different places, at the Academy auditorium, the Academy music room, the Erie high school, one square away, and at the Wilson junior high school, several blocks from Academy. Contests opened immediately after arrival at Erie and continued through until 3:30 in the afternoon. By four o'clock the judges had made their last decisions, the association committee had tallied them and the contestants who had anxiously awaited the announcements had heard the results.

The selections played in the Academy auditorium were broadcasted over an Erie radio station through the courtesy of an Erie concern. Numerous Erie people stated afterward that they had heard New Castle's band and orchestra play their required and selected pieces. "Chant From The Great Plains" was the title of the required number the band played while the orchestra was heard when it played "Egmont by Beethoven, and its selected number.

Miss Isabelle Zehner, director of voice at the senior high, directed the choruses in the contest while John E. Patton, director of instrumental music at the present time, led the band and orchestra.

It was estimated that nearly 3,000 people, students, teachers, music directors and interested followers of high schools from every section of northwestern Pennsylvania were in Erie for the occasion which marks the fourth of its kind to be held. The senior high school has been entering in for several years while a number of the county schools experienced their first attempt to win coveted honors yesterday. A number of organizations entered from the county were comparatively new and somewhat inexperienced when the choice of this section of the state met to outdo them yesterday.

Here Next Year

Prof. F. L. Orth, local principal, stated while returning to New Castle aboard the special last night, that without doubt this city would be host to the musicians next spring. "We are well equipped I feel," he remarked. "To handle such a contest. The cathedral and senior high buildings could be used to advantage and other accommodations could well be provided."

Later in the spring the committee and officers of the association will meet to definitely set the 1930 contest site. So far New Castle is the only city that has extended an invitation. W. E. Dimorier, principal of the Academy high school is the secretary of the association. It is expected that he will call a meeting to decide next year's site very shortly.

Schools competing in the various class A events and the ranking given each by the judges are as follows:

Band competition in the Academy high auditorium: Academy, first; New Castle, second; Grove City third.

Orchestra competition in the Academy high auditorium: Academy, first; Erie, second; New Castle, third; Grove City fourth; Erie East, fifth; and Erie Central tied for fifth place honors.

Lincoln Fund Will Aid Needy Students

NEW YORK, April 27.—To assist the student in the United States confronted with the opportunity to help himself or herself through college is the goal of the Lincoln Scholarship Fund, Inc., stated Nelson Merrill Brooks, chairman of the board of directors of the fund, a national membership organization recently incorporated in this state.

Stipends of endowment funds and individual college scholarships exist throughout the country," Mr. Brooks declared, "but there is no other loan fund available to any student at any college in the land regardless of sex, race, color or social standing. That is the purpose of the Lincoln Scholarship Fund.

"All the student must do is to furnish proof of his or her need and sincerity of purpose. Loans will be made without interest, to be repaid as soon after graduation as possible."

Officers of the new organization are located at 155 East Forty-second

Many Claims For Burial Expenses Of Veterans Filed

Good Work Has Been Done By Red Cross In Handling Claims Here

Since an active campaign was inaugurated here last fall through the Lawrence county chapter of the American Red Cross, a great many claims for burial expenses for deceased veterans of all wars have been settled. Executive Secretary Pat J. Dempsey stated today.

In the neighborhood of $3,000 have been secured to aid in burying deceased veterans, under the terms of a federal enactment.

Mr. Dempsey believes there are still quite a few who are entitled to federal and county aid, and their claims will be given prompt attention on application to the Red Cross office.

Veterans of any wars who have died since April 6, 1917, are entitled to this aid, where the estate of the veterans, exclusive of insurance, have not exceeded $1,000 and where the expense of the funeral has been reasonable.

In some cases settlements were effected within two weeks after the claims were presented.

Men who have seen service in Nicaragua or China, or who have been in U. S. vessels operating in the waters of these countries, are entitled to the same relief as those who saw service during any of the wars of the nation.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness in the death of our husband and father; also for the beautiful floral tributes and the cars donated.

Fisher Signs New Air Code

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, April 27.—Four acts known as the aeronautics code Fisher received the approval of Governor John S. Fisher. Three were sponsored by Rep. Elwood Turner, Delaware, and one by Senator Benjamin Apple, Northumberland.

The new code amplifies the provisions of that passed at the last session which vested all control of aviation in the state aeronautics commission. As before, the commission will be empowered to license aircraft, airmen, landing fields and all navigation equipment.

Authority to designate civil airways over the state and to operate intermediate landing fields along such airways is given under the code approved Friday. It also gives the commission authority to regulate and control flying schools in the state.

All municipal and private airports must secure a license and no pilot may transport by aircraft passengers for hire unless he first secures a state commercial flying license and a certificate of safety from the commission.

One of the acts approved defines the legal status of aerial navigation in the state. While vesting ownership of the air above land in its holder, the acts provide that such ownership does not permit interference with the flight of aircraft if at sufficient height to prevent interference in earth bound activities.

Your Broadway AND Mine

WALTER WINCHELL

By Central Press.
NEW YORK, April 27.—Among other Horatio Alger stories is the one concerning Herbert Bayard Swope, once listed by Lord Northcliffe as America's greatest reporter. In his early Park Row days, Swope was assigned to the N. Y. Evening World's Paris office. It appears that the American newspaper correspondents there met in a hotel daily to exchange all the news, and it was agreed that no one would scoop the other.

Swope, however, managed to get a beat the first day, and the lads were greatly bothered. They wrote a complaint to the Evening World's publisher, but first posted it on their bulletin board for the signatures of the mob. The letter ran:

"We urge the recall of your Swope, who has made enemies of us all already by violating our unwritten law, etc."

When Swope saw it he affixed his own signature and it was posted. A week later he was recalled and upon his arrival he was rewarded with the editorship of the morning World.

A FORM OF CRITICISM.
For our Crisp Crack From Critical Causes Department: The anecdote in the New Yorker by A. Woolcott, who chronicles about James Whitaker, who was drama critic for the N. Y. Daily News once, Whitaker had secretly wedded Ina Claire and the news only leaked out when some where in Whitaker's report on "The Gold Diggers" he flippantly remarked: "When I married Miss Claire she gave her profession as that of an actress, but I saw nothing in last night's proceedings at the Lyceum to justify the description."

The divorce, however, was granted later, on other grounds.

SOTTO VOCE.
Cicero: Miss it very much. Kick in!

Frank J. Wilstach: It's a secret. Al Klein: No like.

THE SCOOP-MAKERS.
After all these to-dos, the esteemed Associated Press has discovered that "whoop" is not a new word. The news bureau bumped up its wires notifying subscribers that "Hay, doo!" Hay, whoopee! Whoop! Go your own way lightly," was in a 1450 Marco play; that Shakespeare called it "whoop," and that Sanskrit had it "hoop."

Constant readers will tell you that the A. P. plagiarized those same reports, almost word for word, from this corner, which so noted at least a dozen weeks ago.

But what we stated to thrill over was observing that the cowboys didn't originate it, after all; and that the word aroused no recognition, controversy or research work—until Broadway revived it.

TCH-TCH-TCH.
That is probably one of the most commonly used words of today, and yet there really is no such word. It had its origin, they tell us, in Walter Winchell's column. He used it pertaining to wild doings—no having a great time—or hence, as we find it today—to "making whoopee!"—The Bridgeport (Conn.) Telegram. Tee-hee.

Immense weather for the idlers, but poison for the lumpy plays. This is supposed to be the time of the year, anyway, when most actors wish they had saved at least a dollar a week. . . . INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
PARIS, April 27.—Private conferences among the reparation delegates were at a standstill today pending the meeting of the sub-committee on Monday, which is dividing the reparation report and the visit to Berlin by Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, chief of the German delegation.

In the meantime the secretaries of the various delegations are compiling and arranging data that will be included in the final report of the committee of experts.

The news nightresses have circled the conference.

Debuture Plan

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.

Senator Nyc (R., N. D.), of the insurgent group, called at the White House today to discuss the farm bill with President Hoover. After the conference he said:

"The House and Senate should get together and pass a bill that will provide relief for the farmers and meet presidential approval."

He declared it was foolish of the Senate to want to include the debenture plan in its bill in face of a probable veto. He will vote against the debenture because he is opposed to federal subsidies.

After a part of the testimony had been taken before Judge Chambers in the case of Don McKibben against Graham Pierce, in the case in which McKibben was asking an accounting from Pierce of his operation of the dancing pavilion at Cascade Park, a non-suit was granted on petition of the plaintiff.

It was found from the testimony that the case should have been brought in equity court, which will require another proceeding.

Federal Forces Lessen Detroit Liquor Supply

BY BURL A. ELY
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

DETROIT, April 27.—The spirit of Detroit has been broken, it is said, by the federal prohibition agents who have drained it of its hard liquor supply.

The mid-day editions of the federal officers has put the "blind pigs" and speakeasies on a "thin" so to speak.

In 30 days, according to the figures in the office of federal prohibition administrator Thomas E. Stone, 17 breweries, 12 large distilleries and 15 small stills have been seized.

In addition to this collection of bootlegging operations during this period, the federal authorities have arrested 187 persons and have seized 46 automobiles used for transporting liquor.

Only Federals.

These figures, mind you, represent the next activities of the federal prohibition department. They exclude the work of customs border patrol or city police.

The unusual activities among the city's beer joints, federal authorities claim, is because of the fact that they are more certain of obtaining convictions to repay their efforts, under the new Jones act. Furthermore, the federal officials say the re-enforcement of the customs border patrol and added cooperation from police officials has added immeasurably in bringing results.

With such heavy drainage on the city's beer barrels, proprietors of the early liquor dives are in a bad way for liquor. In some instances many of the speakeasies and "blind pigs" have had to close down early daily because they did not have enough beer to last them through the day.

Prices Up.

Case beer has skyrocketed to $6 a case while draught beer has come up to $25 a half barrel.

Among the week's large seizures that have been especially effective in draining the liquor supply was one underground brewery, one in the basement of a residence and several passages equipped to produce enough beer to keep 200 speakeasies in the running. Another large brewery was found in a warehouse.

Pitt Controversy Is At Standstill

PITTSBURGH, April 27.—Silence continued and complete, was the response made by University of Pittsburgh authorities today to the action of the Liberal Club, undergraduate civic organization, in refusing a university ruling dissolving the club and barring it from the campus.

Chancellor John G. Bowman continued to be silent concerning the club and its charges that the right of free speech and free assembly had been invaded by the university.

President of the board of trustees George H. Clapp knew of no trouble on the campus. So far as he was concerned, he intimated, the liberals aren't even to be considered a part of university life.

And other members of the faculty, involved in the row that started when the university expelled Dr. Harry E. Barker, noted sociologist and Smith College instructor from the campus when he appeared to address the club on the Moore-Billings labor case, declined to discuss the Liberal's of their affairs.

Open Defiance
Meanwhile, the club was preparing to follow up its action of yesterday, when it had open defiance to the university by holding a meeting in a university building and refused to disperse at the request of the dean of men.

William Albertson, president of the organization, was discussing with other members plans for further meetings to be held on the campus to test the university's power to ban the club.

Foster's Weather Forecast

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Storm wave of moderate intensity will be expected to cross continent in northern transcontinental storm path during week centering on April 28, causing a warm wave during passage of storm center and cool wave following storm center, both of moderate extremes; precipitation during last week of April and first week of May will be moderate, average about normal for the continent, most precipitation expected near north Atlantic and north Pacific coasts.

May Cropweather Features

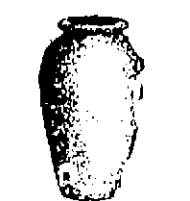

May will average a very good cropweather month generally over the continent. Month will average about normal precipitation for the continent, falling mostly in southern states and on central and northern Pacific slope, less in southern Prairie Provinces and in eastern Great Central valleys, least on eastern and northern slopes and land approaching those slopes. Relative to local normals and comparing with April, May precipitation will decrease along Atlantic coast and increase in other sections of continent. Most precipitation near 9, the central date of the one severe storm period of month; storm waves centering on 2, 9 and 15 will cause general precipitation. Best growing weather of month, where precipitation will not be a detriment, during period 7 to 17. Temperatures will average a little below normal for the month for the continent, but no unusually severe cold periods nor cold waves. Warmest periods near 14 and 8. Moderate storms will cross continent during weeks centering on 2 and 15, mild storms 22 and 31.

Planets and Precipitation In my weekly bulletin dated April 5, 1929 appeared the following: "April is expected to average below normal precipitation for the continent but, as month advances, area of heaviest precipitation near Atlantic coast is expected to move northward." Ontario and north Atlantic coast sections now realize the accuracy of this forecast.

My weekly bulletin dated March 19, 1927 stated that level of Great Lakes would be expected to rise until 1930, as forecasted by expectancy curve drawn by engineers of the Chicago sanitary district. High and rising lake levels are now destroying much property along lake Michigan's shores and officials of the Chicago sanitary district are using this condition as evidence that they are not using a damaging amount of lake Michigan water. During latter part of 1930, I will expect the peak of Great Lakes levels to be passed and that levels of Great Lakes will be lowered during the five years following, gradually; by 1935, if levels of Great Lakes have not been lowered to a damaging point, then it will be evident that Chicago sanitary district is not using too much of lake Michigan water. Years 1935 and 1936 will be expected to bring the

As new and different now as it was when introduced...

Recall the scene. A New Oakland All-American Six. Making its bow to the public. Setting everyone talking. About its distinctive beauty... about its original design.

And now. Weeks have passed. You see the New Oakland here... there... everywhere you go. Other cars have appeared in bewildering succession... offerings for the coming seasons. But the distinction of the All-American continues... unaffected. It's as new and refreshingly different today as it was when introduced.

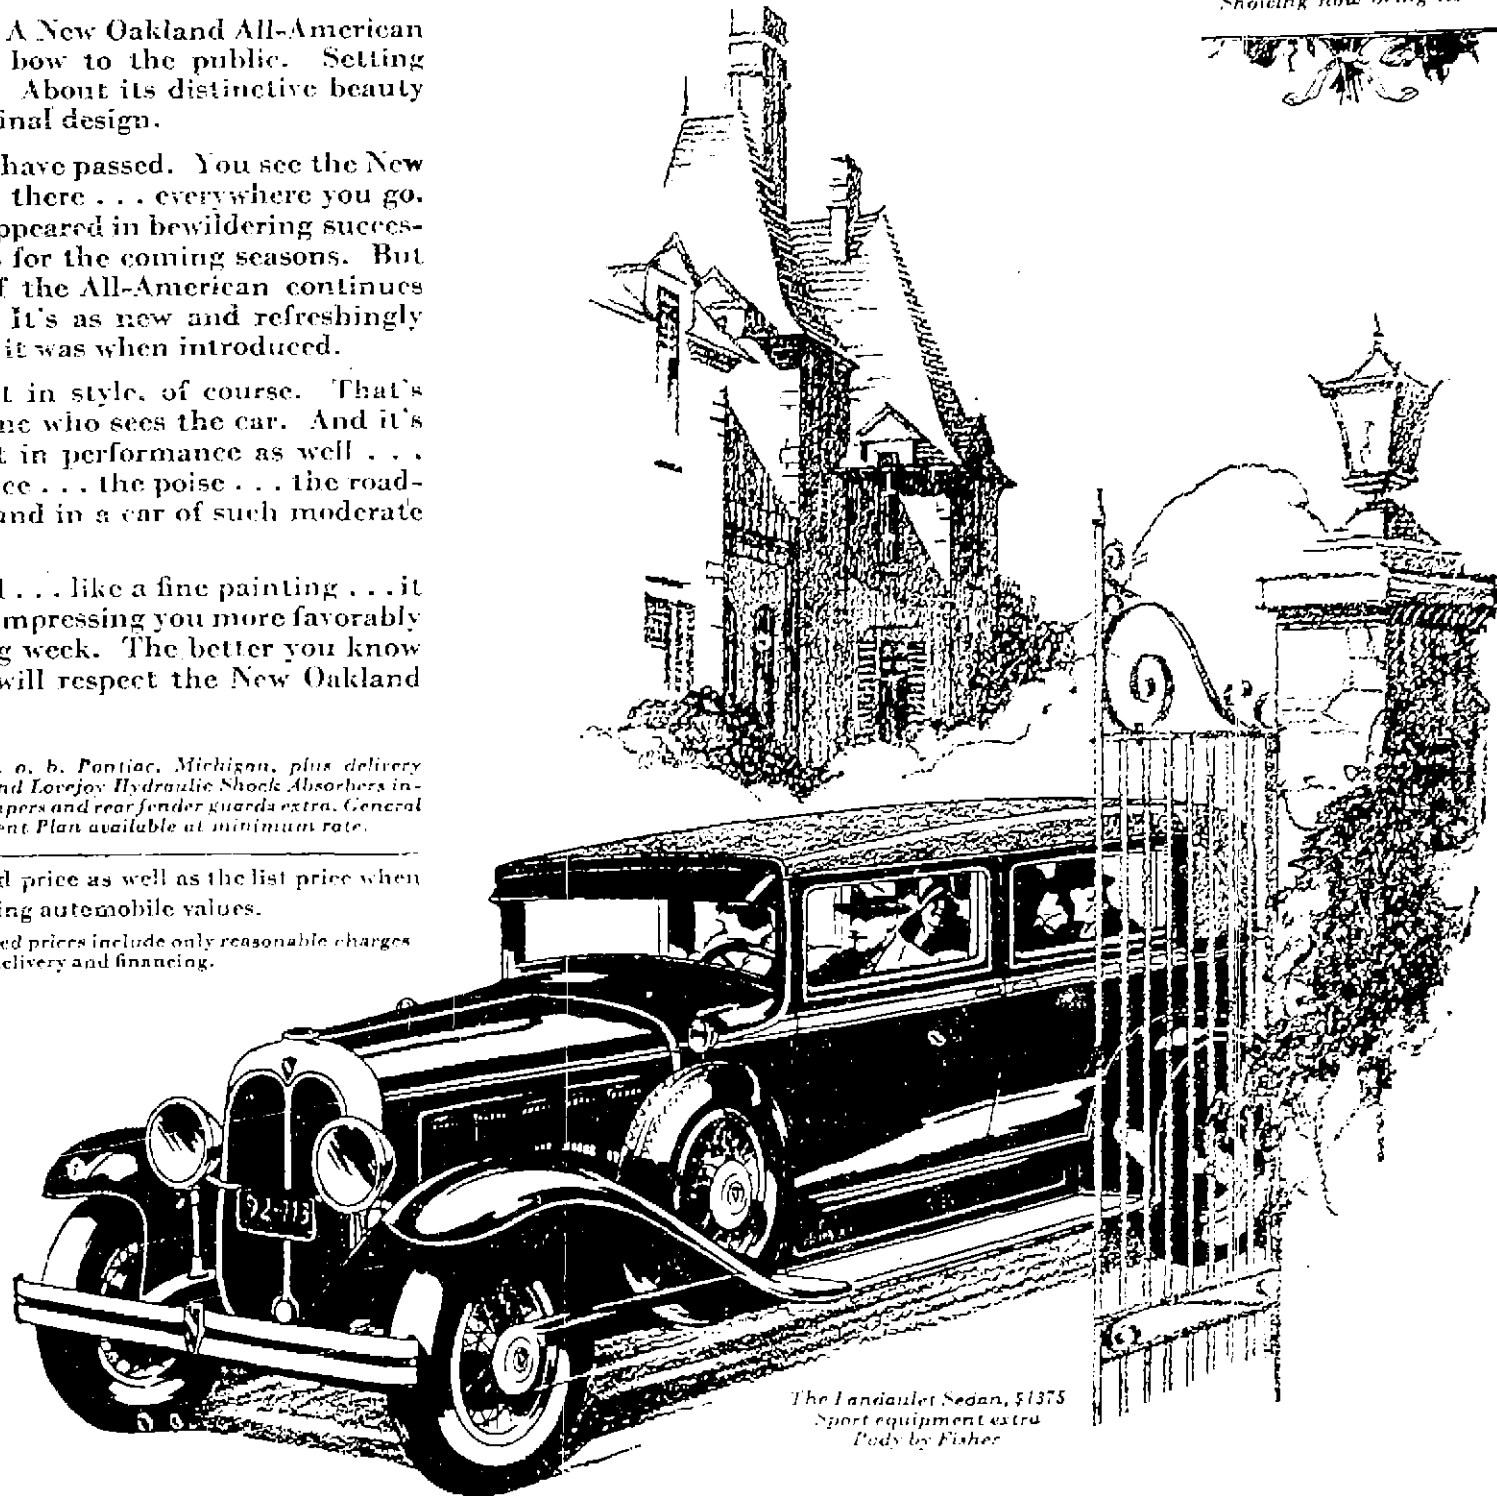

New and different in style, of course. That's obvious to everyone who sees the car. And it's new and different in performance as well... offering the balance... the poise... the roadability seldom found in a car of such moderate price.

Spanish War Vets Plan Convention

Three-Day Meeting Will Be Held In Hazelton During Latter Part Of June

HAZELTON, Pa., April 27.—The annual convention of the United Spanish-American War Veterans of Pennsylvania will be held here starting June 27. Plans for the convention, which will be a three-day meeting, have been practically completed by the entertainment committee of Hazelton City Camp No. 56 of this city, which will be host to the delegates.

Although only about 500 delegates will attend the sessions of the convention it is expected that more than 15,000 visitors will come to this city for the events of the closing day. Stunts by the various camps have been prepared for the last day which will be featured by a mammoth parade, according to present plans. Bands will accompany the camps from Philadelphia, Lancaster, York, Tanawaga, Wilkes-Barre, Mahanoy City, Mount Carmel, Shenandoah, Pottsville and Mauch Chunk, while the Tanawaga camp will also send its own bugle corps.

Detective School Will Be Established

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 27.—The first school for detectives ever held by any college or university in the country will be established at Temple University here, if the bill authorizing such a school is signed by Governor John S. Fisher. The bill was passed during the closing days of the legislature. The bill provides an annual appropriation of $20,000 for the maintenance of the school which will train students in sleuthing in the most approved modern style. Graduates of this school will qualify as expert investigators. A soft answer doesn't turn away as much wrath as a hard look.

Man Is Sentenced To Attend Church

NORRISTOWN, Pa., April 27.—When he was brought into domestic relations court here on a charge of desertion by his wife, Michael Getzels of this city was sentenced to go to church at least once a week while a jail sentence of ten years was suspended by Judge Williams. Judge Williams also ruled that Getzels must provide a home for his wife and live with her without quarreling. He must also pay costs totaling $289.60, at the rate of not less than $15 a month. Judge Williams informed Getzels that another appearance in court would constitute violation of his parole.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Ward Churches To Decide About Time Odd Fellows Lodge Will Attend Church Question Sunday Service In Ward

Decision To Be Made; Other News Notes Of Seventh Ward

Several ward churches plan to decide about the daylight savings time for the church services on Sunday. The churches usually adopt the daylight savings time, but the three churches of the ward have not done so in past years. The churches are the Methodist, the Presbyterian and the Baptist. The majority of the men residing in the seventh ward district are railroad employees. With the exception of office employees, the men on the railroad work by eastern standard time. For this reason three of the churches have conducted their services eastern standard time, while the other churches in the city were having services daylight savings time. A decision will be made in each of the seventh ward churches on Sunday as to which time they will follow for the church services during the summer. One of the churches may change the hour of their services, but the final decision will be made Sunday.

The membership of the local vet post is now close to the 150 mark, one of the largest in recent years.

Under the chairmanship of James Bell the membership campaign this year has been very successful and a great many new members were secured, who had never before belonged to the post.

The vets are now looking forward to a number of activities to be carried out during the coming month, chief of which is the annual Mother's Day banquet on May 15 and the annual "Buddy Poppy" sale on the Saturday preceding Memorial Day.

Troop Needs Horses For Camp Training

Thirty Saddle Horses Sought For Use At Summer Camp Of National Guard

Announcement was made today by Capt. William R. Walter commander of Troop F, 103rd Cavalry that 30 saddle horses would be needed by the troop for duty during the summer encampment of the cavalry division of the National Guard from July 21 to August 12.

Horses which are desired are those which will weigh between 1,000 and 1,200 pounds, short coupled mounts, preferred.

Persons in Lawrence county who have mounts of this description are asked to write to Capt. Walter at the Armory, Neshannock avenue or to call Bell phone 5332 on Monday, Wednesday or Friday evenings.

Troop F Organizes Machine Gun Platoon

Under the directions of Lieut. John Reed, a machine rifle platoon was organized among members of Troop F, 103rd Cavalry last evening.

Lieut. Reed states that there are still several vacancies in the Troop to be filled by Lawrence County boys who can qualify.

It's been a great pleasure the last winter to read the highly interestin' an' convincin' newspaper articles o' Gran'maw Purviance, bedfast fer forty years, on Great Britain's ability to pay. Mrs. Tilford Meeks' nephew went around the world, an' from Alexandria, Bombay, Kandy, Delhi, Peking, Kinto, Korea, Mukden, Singapore, Penang, an' even Cairo, where ever' thing under the sun that's busy all the time. He's a convincin' letter to the newspapers stressin' the futility o' the Volstead act. I doubt if he even saw the pyramids, the Taj Mahal, or the Avenue des Beaux Arts at Monte Carlo. But set it down an' don't ferget it—everybody has got somethin' to his crow. Federal Survey Plans Progress

Two Bills In Congress To Provide Local Waterways Survey

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27.—Senator David Reed on Friday introduced to the senate a bill which would authorize a federal survey of the Beaver, Shenango and Mahoning rivers to determine the feasibility and probable cost of constructing and maintaining channels in these rivers so that water traffic on the Ohio might go up the rivers to New Castle and Youngstown.

Senator Reed's bill is a companion measure to the bill which Representative J. Howard Swick last week presented to the House of Representatives, authorizing such a survey.

Senator Reed has assured Congressman Swick that he is willing and ready to co-operate with the congressman in every way possible to bring about the authorization of the rivers by engineers of the department of war.

(International News Service)
NOME, Alaska, April 27.—Weather permitting, Parker D. Cramer of Clanton, Pa., and W. C. Gamble, Rockford, Ill., aviators, will begin their return airplane flight to the United States early today. They hope to make Alton, B. C., on the first hop.

Cramer made a successful flight over Bering Strait and the east coast of Siberia yesterday, dropping mail at Wales and Diomed Islands. Although he encountered much fog, favorable winds aided him in making a fast trip.

General Chairman Rosenthal has been working hard to keep the Quoniam Post in the lead, and present records show that the locals are still out in front, although Beaver Falls has made a steady gain during the past few weeks.

THE SECOND WAS THE CLAYTON ANTI-TRUST ACT, SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT ON OCTOBER 15, 1914. THIS ACT WAS DESIGNED TO BRING ABOUT A STRICTER ENFORCEMENT OF THE SHERMAN ANTI-TRUST LAW OF 1890.

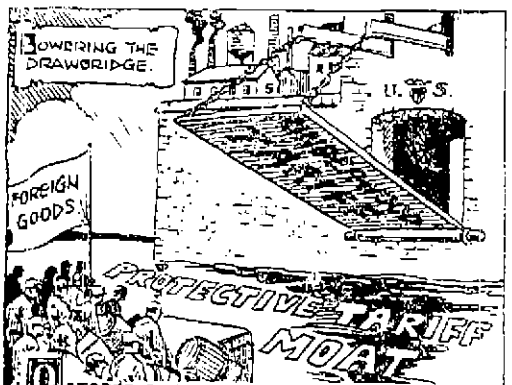

TOMORROW—THE FEDERAL RESERVE BANKING ACT.

THE FIRST OF THESE WAS THE "COVINGTON BILL". IT CREATED THE FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION, COMPOSED OF THREE MEMBERS APPOINTED BY THE PRESIDENT WITH THE APPROVAL OF THE SENATE. THE CHIEF FUNCTION OF THE COMMISSION WAS TO INVESTIGATE ALL PERSONS OR CORPORATIONS ENGAGED IN INTERSTATE TRADE, WITH THE EXCEPTION OF BANKS AND COMMON CARRIERS.

HAVING DISPOSED OF THE TARIFF QUESTION, PRESIDENT WILSON DEVOTED HIS EFFORTS TO SECURE THE PASSAGE OF LAWS TO CONTROL THE "TRUSTS". IN AN ADDRESS TO CONGRESS (JANUARY 20, 1914), HE URGED THE ADOPTION OF MEASURES THAT SHOULD FORM A "CONSTITUTION OF PEACE" IN INDUSTRY. TWO IMPORTANT LAWS REGULATING THE ACTIONS OF CORPORATIONS AND PROTECTING COMPETITION WERE ENACTED.

OCTOBER 3, 1913, THE UNDERWOOD TARIFF ACT WENT INTO EFFECT UPON ITS SIGNATURE BY PRESIDENT WILSON. THE UNDERWOOD ACT WAS INTENDED AS A TARIFF FOR REVENUE ONLY, THE AVERAGE OF ITS RATES BEING MORE THAN ELEVEN PERCENT LOWER THAN THE PRECEDING TARIFF. THERE WAS LITTLE OPPORTUNITY TO OBSERVE ITS EFFECT ON BUSINESS AS SHORTLY AFTER IT WENT IN FORCE CAME THE OUTBREAK OF THE WORLD WAR, WHICH PRECLUDED FOREIGN COMPETITION.

Nearly 200 Enumerators Will Compile Census Returns In This District

By Arthur C. Winkler
Washington, D. C., April 27.—(Associated Press.)—The census bureau has divided the New Castle district into 190 enumeration districts, each of which will have approximately 150 enumerators and clerks working under him during the week of the 15th national census, planned by the bureau of the census bureau.

The census bureau for the purpose of conducting the census, has divided the New Castle district into 190 enumeration districts. Each district is divided into 45 enumeration districts. Each district is divided into 45 enumeration districts. Each district is divided into 45 enumeration districts.

This, however, does not necessarily indicate that Attorney Brown will be assisted by 190 enumerators by the federal government. The census bureau is planning to arrange the taking of the census so that enumerators in urban communities will complete the count in two weeks and enumerators in rural areas will complete their canvass in approximately 30 days.

WINS DISTINCTION UNDER TWO FLAGS

The unusual distinction of serving under two flags has been achieved by Richard Shaker, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., who, during this period, has been a member of the U. S. Marine Corps and an officer in the G. I. D. Hail. As a sergeant of Marines, Shaker is serving under the Stars and Stripes, while as a captain in the Italian military force he also serves under blue and red standard of Hail.

He has made good in both capacities, and was recently decorated with the distinguished service cross by the Italian government, while he has been highly commended by Marine Corps authorities for his invention of the "Shaker Alining Device," now in use at all Marine rifle ranges.

Under an agreement with the Italian government, selected non-commissioned officers of the Marine Corps hold commissions in the Garde D'Hail. The higher ranks, including that of the chief of the Garde, are held by commissioned officers of the Marine Corps. Only highly qualified men are selected for this duty. During his rare visits to the United States, Shaker visits Poughkeepsie, where his mother and several members of his family are living. In the photo he is wearing the uniform of the Garde.

Youth Awarded Carnegie Medal For Brave Act

Union City, Pa., Youth Honored; Prevented Drowning On June 13, 1928

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH April 27.—John Jay Sterner, 22-year-old Union City, Pa., student today had been awarded a bronze medal by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for his heroic act in saving the life of M. Bernard Cooke, Jr., at New Bethlehem, Pa., on June 13, 1928.

Sterner was one of 21 persons honored by the commission for acts of heroism.

While Cooke was swimming in Red Bank Creek he was carried over a dam into turbulent water seven feet deep about 70 feet from the bank. There was a suspicion toward the fall and Cooke was tossed about helplessly.

Sterner dived from the bank partly clothed into the tossing waters below the dam. Battling against the maelstrom he made his way 60 feet to a submerged rock where he rested a moment. Then he again plunged into the water and swam 25 feet more where Cooke was thrown into his arms by the tossing waters eight feet from the dam.

Sterner grasped Cooke and battled his way through the tossing waters, 27 feet to shallow water. Cooke was unconscious but was revived.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

It was Ethel Barrymore who used the lines "Oh to be in England for it's April there."

The talented lady may have really preferred England in April, but she never saw the Wilmington Road and the boro of New Wilmington in April. It's a picture. Cherry blossoms and peach blossoms, and a maze of green, broad lawns well kept and with flowers coloring the country side.

From the top of Furnace Hill, one looks over as pretty a picture as all England offers (reader's note—merely a conjecture). And if Ethel could have seen New Wilmington in April before the play had been written, well who knows?

He really is a royal chap, but even as you and I, likes to say "I told you so" at times. Some months ago he let some of his friends in on the ground floor of a hot tip. "Buy Toothpick Common," was the gist of his remarks. "And buy it now at the market."

Being a friend, we let him effervesce about Toothpick Common, which isn't the name of the stock, and as it was selling at 15 some of the boys decided that it was just one of those things.

He ate dinner at the next table from me last night, and with a chuckle he conceded he remarked, "Toothpick Common closed at 47 today."

All of which gives me a pain in the neck.

Now that Gene Tunney has been visiting George Bernard Shaw, we can expect a blurb any day with the announcement by Gene that he has decided to approve such works as "Androcles and the Lion," "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife" or "The Devil's Disciple."

When this chap Dr. Parlette starts out to do a thing, he wants everything down on a chart. Probably got that way from taking temperatures as an interne. But what I started out to say was that the Doctor is heading the Field Club Carnival on May 17, and his announcement which came in the mail today looks like a Pennsylvania Railroad schedule.

The only thing he missed on the schedule was the naming of the prize winners at the various games, and Sir Thomas Wallingford Dickey will see to that. And how.

The Carnival is to be the grand spring opening and all that sort of thing, with no holds barred.

Tomorrow is one day you will have a perfect alibi if you're late. It is the first day of Daylight Savings and if you happen to ever sleep an hour, blame it on D. S. Everything but the price of tripe will be blamed on it, with some of the boys still using it as an alibi on Monday morning.
